NATIONAL WHIG NOMINATIONS.

FOR PRESIDENT, GENERAL WINFIELD SCOTT. OF NEW JERSEY.

FOR VIOR PRESTDENT WILLIAM A. GRAHAM,

OF NORTH CAROLINA.

Resolven, That the Whig people of Washington, conscious that the ground they tread is worthy of the consecrated name it bears only so long as it is peopled by men who hold to the Union of the States as the source and fountain of the blessings of public order and private right—of liberty and law—of happiness at home, and honor throughout the world; and believing that in the principles and policy of the Whig party, and in the tried patriotism of its glorious leaders, is the best safeguard of the Union from domestic discord or foreign quarrel, no noto Firmary to those principles, and will raily with ardent and united hearts around the flag of the Union, to whomsoever of these leaders it may be confided in the approaching contest.—Proceedings of a Whig meeting prior to the nomination.

"I HAVE SERVED THE UNION FOR FORTY-ODD YEARS, AND FEEL MYSELF A CITIZEN OF EVERY PART OF IT; AND WHATEVER OF LIFE AND STRENGTH I MAY HAVE SHALL BE DEVOTED TO ITS PRESERVATION."-Gen. Winfield Scott's Castle Garden Speech.

Renomination of Hon. L. D. Campbell, of Ohio.

We are gratified to learn, by an authentic tele graphic despatch, that this gentleman was nominated, by acclamation, by a convention of his constituents, on the 17th instant. Mr. Campbell had previously expressed his desire not to be again a candidate; but it is with pleasure we observe that the estimate formed of his merits in this city is fully endorsed by the people of his district. Intelligent, able, dignified, and devoted to the duties of his position, he is ever found where men of worth and stability are needed.

Mr. Campbell's district, in 1851, gave a Democratic majority of 1,000 votes, having been so shaped by a Democratic legislature, as we have been informed, for the purpose of burying him up; but the people knew him, and, throwing off in a measure the restraints of party, rallied to his support. This was an honorable tribute to his worth, and well has he merited the confidence thus reposed in him. Yet Campbell is no timeserving, half-way politician. His portraiture of himself, in the conclusion of an able speech, now before us, delivered on the 12th instant, in the House of Representatives, is just and truthful. Speaking of himself, as a Whig, he exclaimed-

Let others do as they may, sir; for my own part, I have long been enlisted in this cause—a soldier not for three months, nor for six months, nor "for the war" alone, but for life; and my greatest aim shall be so to press on, that, when my battles are all over in this world, it may b written of me, politically, at least-

Ushaken, unseduced, unterrified,
His loyalty he kept, his love, his zeal;
Nor number, nor example, with him wrought
To swerve from truth, or change his constant mind."

We shall embrace an early opportunity to quote a series of extracts from the columns of this

Impartial Words.

To the question, "Why does not General Scott resign ?" the Baltimore Clipper (an independent paper) well answers, that there is no reason why he should. "It is not customary for men holding public offices, nominated to other stations by the people, to resign; neither would it be proper. General Scott is commander-in-chief of the American army-a station which he has filled with honor to himself and advantage to his country. No man doubts his qualifications; for even those who oppose his elevation to the Presidency admit that he is the ablest general of the age. If he were to resign, it would be setting a bad preceabilities and skill; and this would be of importance in case of a war."

The Richmond Republican, in noticing this guished talents, peculiarly qualify him for the position which he occupies; and should he be will suspect that he will not satisfactorily perform its duties.

Pennsylvanie.

The following is an extract of a letter written by a prominent ex-member of Congress from Western Pennsylvania to a friend in this city, published in the Intelligencer:

"The fires of 1840 are kindling up in Pennsylvania. We had yesterday at Monroe a grand and most enthusiastic meeting, and torch-light procession from thence to Uniontown at night. A number of Case men came out and declared themselves for Scott, while every Taylor man is ardently for him. You may set down the old Keystone for Scott by at least twenty thousand. His majority must, from every present indication, greatly exceed that of General Taylor."

We have never known the writer of the above letter to speak or write at random on important subjects. The above may be safely received as coming from one who writes with light and knowledge.

The "Silly Old Man."

Ye gods! exclaims the Richmond Republican, Fayette McMullen calling Winfield Scott silly! How old Churubusco will be afflicted when that comes to his ears. "Tell your Emporer," said a little old woman to a corporal of Napoleon's famous guard, "that I have a great contempt for him." "I will, Madame," replied the courteous veteran, "but you can't think how bad he'll feel when he hears it."

Hon. Thomas F. Marshall, of Kentucky. This gentleman is doing good service in the cause of Scott and Graham. He has recently delivered two able speeches at Lexington.

Hon. George Grinnell, of Massachusetts. This gentleman, in a letter recently published, calls upon the Whigs of the Old Bay State to rally around the standard of Scott and Graham.

" Scott's brigade led, and the enemy fled before

This quotation forms part of the concluding sentence of a letter written by Hon. Samuel Benton, of Mississippi, in which he also says:

Show People. Bernum's success has tempted and broke many mitating adventurers. He is a very rich man. for the day. It is said that his chief sources of income, out of onnecticut, are his museum, said to be very profitable, and his famous menagerie, now in Michigan. Sixty thousand dollars were the profits of the last year; and among its incidental expenses are $200 a week, or $10,400 a year for Tom Thumb. Barnum made Tom Thumb's for- the bill ordered to a third reading. tune, and Tom contributed not a little to Barnum's. Fom is about 16 years of age now, though passing for more, and it is his money which built for his father the largest house in Bridgeport. Tom has made all his family rich; and when at home is of course the elephant of the town, Barnum being then but a simple lion. Tom has his bijou of a room in his great house, with a rosewood jected-yeas 25, nays 25. bedstead, chairs, tables, and a tea sett, &c., all made to match his own diminutive proportions. His quarters contain all the presents he received in Europe, and pistols, bowie knives, jack knives, &c., have been among his favorite playthings; but he is amiable, intelligent, and very much esteemed. Barnum took him as an experiment about ten years ago. His pay at the start was $3 a week, soon it was raised to $25, then to $37. At this price, Barnum took him to Engand, where his great success prompted Mr. B. to share the receipts with him. Now, for showing himself merely, he earns an income equal to the official salaries of Daniel Webster and John J. Crittenden combined

A writer in the Philadelphia Sun states that on Saturday last, a gentleman of the legal profession, after having a severe surgical operation performed under the influence of chloroform, by Dr. Winslow, made two elegant speeches, and re peated two or three pieces of poetry from Young's Night Thoughts, of which he had not the slightest recollection afterwards.

He commenced in a mild voice and pleasing ac ent, as follows:

"Sweet sleep."

After a short pause he continued: "Tired nature's sweet restorer," &c.

After taking leave of the poet, he slept sweetly wo or three minutes, when he commenced as follows:

"Mr. President, lest I should become too pro lix. allow me to address a few words to the fairer portion of this audience," &c.

He then eulogized woman, dilating on her influence and responsibility, closing with an apostrophe on temperance, and advocating vehemently the Maine liquor law.

His gestures were energetic and appropriate, although his eyes were closed during all his remarks. His somnolency continued but a few minutes after he had done speaking. He was delighted that he had suffered no pain, and surprised when told of his interesting speeches, and said he had had a pleasant dream.

Imperial! The New York Tribune is "down on" what it calls "Flunkeyism," and instances the obsequiousness of the fashionables at Newport who participated in a recent ceremony, which it thus describes :

"Last Sunday was what is called, in the caler dar of French saints, the anniversary of the Emperor Napoleon, and, as we learn from Newport, t was celebrated by a mass at the Church of the Holy Name of Mary. This sacred service was performed at the special request of Mr. Sartiges, the French Minister, who is now enjoying the de-lights of that fashionable watering-place. It was attended by a considerable number of French residents and visiters of the town, and also by a orilliant body of American would-be aristocracy of both sexes. The party, and especially the American portion, were, as we understand, afterward entertained at dinner by his Excellency the Minister, when the festivities were rendered doubly joyous by the expression, not merely of the recollections, but of the hopes connected with the name of Napoleon.

> Insubordination among Virginia Slaves. We regret to perceive the tragic results of this feeling daily manifesting themselves. The latest instance involves a tale of horror. It appears, by a statement in the Richmond Times, that a Mr. Ball, an overseer for Edward T. Tayloe, in able to walk without support. Having heard of your valu-King George county, finding it necessary to chas- able medicine, I deemed it expedient to give it a trial, and. tise a field-hand, attempted to do so in the field, when the negro resisted, and gave the overseer a which the human frame is subject to. severe beating, who then mounted his horse, and proceeded to inform Mr. Tayloe. Mr. T., in company with Ball, repaired to the corn-field, and lemanded to know the cause of the negro's conduct, who replied that Mr. Ball had attempted to whip him, but that he would not submit to it. Mr. T. told him he should, and ordering him to cross his hands, directed Mr. Ball to take hold of him. Mr. B., perceiving that he had drawn a knife, told Mr. Tayloe of it, who immediately sprang from his horse, and, drawing a pistol from his pocket, shot the negro dead at his feet.

A Too Frequent Occurrence.

The papers inform us that a girl, employed by a carpet corporation at Lowell, took laudanum, with the intention of destroying herself, but the dose was too large for the purpose. The cause of the act is said to be desertion, accompanied by slander, on the part of a young man who had been paying her attentions. Give us the fellow's daguerreotype, and then let him come down this way. We want to teach him a needed lesson, if the young men and women at Lowell are too shilly-shally for the work !

Bayne's Panorama.

This is the last night but one of the exhibition of this enchanting picture in the city of Washington. It has afforded the liveliest attraction to all who have seen it for the past six weeks, and those who neglect to pay it a visit will lose a great treat. The Pueblo Indians are to attend the exhibition this evening, by invitation of the gentlemanly proprietor.

During our rambles yesterday, we "called in" at the Arsenal, with the intention of seeing some of our old acquaintances among the "bon and sinew" employed there. There is not a grea deal of work doing at this place, nor many hands employed, but everything appears to be in good order, and waiting only for the command of the authorities. We saw, in our rounds, "Duncan's battery," that did such good service with Scott and Taylor at Paro Alto, Resaca, Monterey, Molino, Churubusco, and Mexico. It is worth a walk to see it; and when you have seen it, you will be glad to know that the workmen are putting these old pieces in condition to do more good service, if required. The "cap machine" is not in operation now, and we are informed that ere long it will be removed entirely, and taken to Frankford, near Philadelphia, where all the caps for the army are to be manufactured. The trophies, too, are worthy of notice. Those taken at Yorktown, Saratoga, and Niagara, remind us of days gone by, when it was the amusement of our soldiers to take such things from Johnny Bull. The long guns taken from San Juan

We took a ride in one of Reeside & Merrill's new coaches yesterday, and in a short time found ourselves outside of the city, at the "Park." This is intended as a place of resort for ladies and gentlemen during the summer months. It is arranged entirely with a view to the pleasure and comfort of visiters, and in this respect the entire satisfaction of every visiter is secured by the means employed. We were conducted through the place by one of the polite and attentive proprietors (Messrs. Harrison & Bro.,) vote for General Pierce for better reasons than The arrangement of the "Park Hotel" is excellent, and everything about it appears to be in its proper place. One of the first things we inquire for, when we go abroad, is good water. Here we found it "first rate." The "Park" will be the place of amusement and pastime in a very short time. The arrangements of the hotel will be completed in a few days, and we understand the proprietors are prepared to accommodate regular boarders in good style.

The southern part of our city, or "the vere parent has thus caused the fall of a well-Island," is improving very rapidly. Dwellings are being built in every part; and the best of it is, the most of them are the well-merited rewards of the toil of the hard-working man.
